INTEGRITY OF A CRIME SCENE

In addition to general security in the private sector, we found that insurance companies have a need for a different type of security. Crime Scene Security. Securing and maintaining the integrity of a potential crime scene is absolutely essential in any criminal or civil litigation. As many of us know, if there suspicion of foul play, the local or State police department will initiate an investigation. The one thing we don't know is that more often than not, the scene is left unattended for several days, sometimes even weeks. In most criminal cases, evidence is collected and removed from the scene. However, time after time we experience situations where criminal cases find their way into Civil Court. In the majority of criminal acquittals and fraudulent litigation wins, the integrity of the crime scene is a major factor in the final disposition.

Our company was recently hired by a major insurance company to not only protect their interest and assets at large loss, but to maintain the integrity of an alleged crime scene. In this particular case, the insurance claim, which was over three million dollars, involved a suspicious fire. The local investigators determined it to be "electrical".

Litigation

We then gained control and secured the scene while the insurance company called in experts from around the country. The area was directly monitored 24 hours a day/ 7 day a week. The crime scene or "point of origin" being protected will play a major role in the hearings to come.

When your hire Ernest Ryan to secure your loss, you deal directly with the owner and we work hand in hand with your company to optimize the security and integrity of all aspects of the investigation.

WHAT SEPARATES US FROM OTHER COMPANIES?

In the past, security agencies and even off duty police officers have been summoned to "watch" the scene of a major insurance loss.

At Ernest Ryan, not only do we secure the area or scene in question, we set up a command post and work along side with your experts. We coordinate who is and is not permitted to enter or remain in the area.

We are Certified Crime Scene and Evidence Specialists. Although we may not be processing the scene, we are well aware what to look for and what to avoid. In every case, we have only one interest at hand. That is to protect and assist your company at all levels until the final determination. We are your Eyes and Ears. Thomas Rudolph/owner
